

Arizona Attorney General Office

Introduction

This case study of Arizona Attorney General Office is based on a June 2018 survey of Forcepoint Next Generation Firewall customers by TechValidate, a 3rd-party research service.

“Great product, features, and price. Simple, easy-to-use interface.”

Challenges

The business challenges that led the profiled organization to evaluate and ultimately select Forcepoint Next Generation Firewall:

- Exposure to advanced network threats
- Evaluated the following vendor before choosing Forcepoint:
 - Cisco
- Addressed the following challenge after using Forcepoint Next Generation Firewall:
 - New firewall deployment

Organization Profile

Organization:
Arizona Attorney General Office

Organization Size:
State & Local

Industry:
Government

Use Case

The key features and functionalities of Forcepoint Next Generation Firewall that the surveyed organization uses:

- Chose Forcepoint because of the following capability:
 - Local implementation of the solution that does not require an onsite technician

About Forcepoint Next Generation Firewall

Forcepoint provides software solutions to protect users, data, and network against insider threats and outside attacks in financial services, healthcare, government, and justice and public safety industries.

Learn More:

Forcepoint

Results

The surveyed organization achieved the following results with Forcepoint Next Generation Firewall:

- Lower Total Cost of Ownership
- Reports that their end-user internet performance significantly improved as a result of moving to the Forcepoint Next Generation Firewall.
- Reports that their planned maintenance and unplanned outages were reduced from hours to minutes since using Forcepoint Next Generation Firewall.
- Reports that their incident response time was reduced from hours to minutes since using Forcepoint Next Generation Firewall.